Washington Win Streak May Stretch Thanks To Shea

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, May 15 (UP)—Washington's six-game winning streak threatened to stretch up like a Senate filibuster today, thanks to Spec Shea, who went arm to a pain in the neck with a 300 mark in the neck with the Yankees, but feels just dandy right now.

Shea, one of three Yankee cast-offs on the pitching staff of Bucky Harris, a Yankee castoff himself, turned in a six-hit, 2-1 victory over the Browns Thursday night to put the Nats up to the 500 mark and only a game out of fourth place.

That was out there at all, he thinks, is a tribute to the faith of Harris, who gave him another chance when it looked like he might be all through in baseball.

Up To Industry On Agriculture Problem, Davis

WASHINGTON (UP)—It will be up to private industry to decide if there will be more private enterprise and "less government" in agriculture, John H. Davis said today.

The president of the Agriculture Department's price-support agency, the Commodity Credit Corporation, said he thinks there's enough "brain-power and ingenuity in America" to meet the challenge and reverse the "trends towards more government."

But unless private enterprise acts, Davis said, "the decision becomes an automatic one in favor of more and more government in business."

He said he thinks "infinitely more progress" towards stable farm income can be achieved if "we place the chief responsibility on private enterprise rather than government."

Writing in the current issue of the department's "Marketing Activities," Davis blamed much of the move toward "more and more government" on the industry itself.

He said one of the reasons some $3,000,000,000 worth of farm commodities are piling up in CCC ownership today is that in the past, handlers, processors and merchandisers "have not assumed the responsibility of building a marketing system adequate to meet the farmer's needs."

He said real industry—wide
"teamwork"—could provide farm price stability at fair levels without forcing the government to buy up crops and lose money on sales of surplus stocks.

Better Method of Diagnosing Polio Is Discovered

WASHINGTON (UP)—Two
scientists of the U. S. Public Health Service have developed a quicker and cheaper method of diagnosing the most common type of polio.

Health service officials said their work also opens the possibility of developing a "live" virus vaccine which might be effective for a year.

The only immunizing agent now in use — gamma globulin — is effective only for about five weeks.
A "dead" virus vaccine now being developed at the University of Pittsburgh is expected to be effective three to six months.

Officials explained that vaccines made with "live" viruses are believed to last twice as long as those made with dead viruses.
The research was done by Dr.
C. P. El and Dr. Morris Schaffer of the virus and rickettsia laboratory, Montgoner, Ala., which is part of the Public Health Service communicable diseases center at Atlanta, Ga.

They found a method of developing in mice the type of polio virus believed to be the cause of most cases of human polio. Until now this type of virus could be developed only in monkeys and chimpanzees.

The scientists said this means that all three of the known polio virus strains now can be diagnosed through the relatively simple "mice tests." They said this will "permit the performance of rapid, re-producible and relatively inexpensive diagnostic tests."

The doctors also found that when the virus had been passed through monkeys it lost its paralyzing effect for the monkeys without impairing its ability to immunize.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LIVING AS CHRISTIANS

1 Thessalonians 1:1; 5:1-8, 14-23
This Epistle has the distinction of being the first of Paul's writings which were recorded in the New Testament. It was written for the express purpose of correcting certain errors in the church at Thessalonica, of giving the proper instruction concerning the return of Christ, and of comforting the believers in Christ and encouraging them in their work for Him.

1 Thessalonians 1:1
In this salutation Paul associates Silas and Timothy with himself. It is to be remembered that they were coworkers in the establishment of the church in Thessalonica. What a noble trio of faithful servants of Christ! Under the ministry of Paul and his associates the Thessalonian Christians had come to know the Saviour. How he rejoiced that they had become the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus! They had been called out of their former life of sin by the Spirit of God, to the Son of God, and for the glory of God. It is most encouraging to note that Paul did not lose interest in them, love for them, and devotion to them merely because they had been saved. His devotion to them caused him to commend them very highly, and that without any fear of making them proud. They had been a constant joy to him, as well as a splendid example and a great inspiration to others.

In order to emphasize the safety of the church at Thessalonica, Paul simply referred to its wonderful position as being "in God the Father and in the Lord Jesus Christ." Then, he wished for them grace and peace from the only source of both, namely, God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. The Father is the fountain of all spiritual blessings, and believers in Christ are the recipients of all of them.

1 Thessalonians 1:5-8
On the part of the Thessalonians there was a restless curiosity and an eager longing with reference to "the times and the seasons" in connection with the tremendously important event of the second coming of Christ. To them Paul made it perfectly clear that the return of Christ is an absolute certainty. And he certainly taught them that they should exercise vigilance with reference to His return.

Paul was constantly looking forward with great anticipation to the day when Christ would come again. What a glorious hope and what a blessed prospect! He knew full well that Christ's return would be personal, visible, sudden, and unexpected. The time of His coming was an uncertainty. The exact time of His coming can never be known by any man. That being the case, Paul was anxious for the fact of His return to serve as a challenge to preparedness, as an incentive to watchfulness, holiness and sacrificial service for Christ, and as a source of great comfort when sorrow comes. Paul strongly urged the Christians in Thessalonica to watch for Christ ardently, to wait for Him patiently, to wish for Him prayerfully, to walk with Him dependently, to witness for Him faithfully, and to work for Him diligently.

1 Thessalonians 1:14-23
Christian living is the conformity of a life to the will of Christ. God's Word stresses the necessity of those bearing the name of Christ really living as Christ would have them.

In writing to the Thessalonian Christians Paul also emphasized the importance of the Christian standards of life. Instead of conforming to the ways of the world, the believers were challenged to test things according to the Christian standards and to do that which was right in each instance. There is a wealth of teaching in the New Testament about the manner of Christian living. In our relationship with others we are to practice fair and kind treatment. Some of the Thessalonian Christians had been wronged by others. Paul taught them by precept and example that there was only one right way to act in these circumstances, and that was, not to retaliate, but to overcome evil with good. For any to render evil for evil, regardless of the circumstances, is to create two evils instead of one.

Paul then mentioned some things that are involved in our relationship with God. We are to rejoice continuously in our position in Christ, our protection in Christ, and our possessions in Christ. To rejoice is not only our privilege, but also our Christian duty.

In this passage are two truths which are vitally related and inseparably linked in the Word of God — prayer and thanksgiving. Prayer implies two things, namely, man is dependent and he is capable of fellowship with God. Prayer is an expression of man's sense of helplessness and dependence. It is the greatest resource in life and the mightiest thing a Christian can do. Nothing lies beyond the reach of prayer except those things which lie outside the will of God for us.

There are few duties which the Bible enjoins in terms of so large a requirement as that of thanksgiving. Paul wrote the Thessalonians to the effect that whether in sickness or in health, in adversity or in prosperity, in prison or at liberty, whatever their outward circumstances, they were to be thankful. It is a duty incumbent upon all of us to render thanks unto God for mercies received and enjoyed. Thanksgiving wondrously strengthens our faith as well as pleases our Heavenly Father. Nothing can come into our lives unless He permits, and He only permits what is for our welfare.

He further admonished them to avoid quenching the Holy Spirit; to refrain from despising prophecies by underestimating their value, neglecting to hear them or refusing to obey them; to distinguish between the genuine and the spurious, and hold fast the genuine; and to abstain from the appearance of every kind of evil.

No. 22: Mary I, Queen of England and Ireland 1553-1558.

Born: 1516, daughter of Henry VIII by his first wife. Curiously, when she came to the throne, aged 37 ("plain-featured and frustrated," an English historian describes her) women were forbidden to hold public office or practice professions. Women's place was in the home, spinning, cooking, etc. Mary (at right, above her signature) did nothing to emancipate women, and reduced England to chaos and misery. In her endeavor to restore the status of the church to what it was before her father's reign, she condemned the following to be burned: the Archbishop of Canterbury, two bishops, 21 clergy, 84 artisans, 100 laborers, 55 women, 4 children. It is said that Mary died obsessed with the belief she was pregnant. She repeatedly announced that she was with child, but never bore one. The evidence is that her husband, Philip II of Spain, detested her. Englishmen began voyaging far and wide in her reign, challenging Spanish supremacy in exploration. Willoughby and Chancellor sailed into the White Sea and opened trade with the Russians at Archangel with momentous consequences.

The term 'distaff side' for women, comes from the instrument used by women in spinning before the spinning wheel appeared in England in the 16th century. There were no schools for women in Mary's time, there being general opposition to the education of them. TOMORROW: Elizabeth

Good Sheepmen To Be Honored

The recognition of 100 outstanding sheepmen has been made a feature of the program of the lamb and wool show at Lexington June 15 and 16, according to R. C. Miller of the University of Kentucky. A "lamb king" for 1953 will be selected from this group of honor sheep-raisers.

Nominations of farmers to be recognized at the festival and show may be made by county sheep associations or by individuals, Miller said. Candidates for the honor must own at least 40 ewes, but need not have large flocks. Their lamb and wool production will be taken into account, as will their incomes from sheep.

Nominations should be made to the Animal Husbandry Department, University of Kentucky College Agriculture and Home Economics, by June 1.

Tom Thumb Wedding Performed By Mozart Club

The Mozart Music Club held a recent meeting at the home of Ann Wrather. Her mother, Mrs. Marvin Wrather, Mrs. Leon Grogan and Mrs. Sallie Hadden were the hostesses.

The program centered around a Tom Thumb wedding and the bride was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Following the ceremony Mary Anna Wallace played "A Love Song" by Truax. Susan Syndergaard, accompanied by Mary Wells Overbey, sang "Tell Me That You Love Me." Dickie Farrell, accompanied by Margaret Ruth Crier, sang "Honey" and Nancy McCusick played "Liebestraume."

Ann Wrather played both wedding marches, Lohengrin for the procession and Mendelssohn for the recessional. Sallie Sprunger played "The Wedding March" during the playing of the vows which were duly read by Paul Biddle, Jr. as the minister.

The bride, Annette Hadden, was very lovely in her gown of white organdy and long veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Eddie Lee Grogan, the bridegroom was quite handsome in dark coat and white trousers.

The bridesmaids were Patricia Shirley, Ada Beth McCusick and Julia Paschall. The maid of honor was Donna Wilson and the flower girl was Ann Beale Russell.

They were all beautifully dressed in long formal of pastel organdy, net and taffeta and carried corsages to match their costumes.

The young men who ushered were Danny Key, Richard Workman, and Dickie Farrell. Freddie Fugate took the part of the father of the bride and Linda Paschall, the mother.

After the wedding the group was invited into the dining room where there was a real bride and bridegroom situation on the top tier. After the cake was cut all were served punch and cake.

For the benefit of those who had expressed a desire to see the wedding it was repeated at the grade school chapel at Murray High School Friday morning.

The young couple, members of the Bonnie Crouch's second grade class, will continue their studies and make their homes—as usual—with their respective parents as the bride is "too young to leave her mother."

The Cherry Corner Baptist Church was the scene of a reception given in honor of Rev. Tom McCullough Saturday evening by the women of the church. Rev. McCullough has served as pastor of the church for the past three years.

The guests assembled in the auditorium for a short program given as follows:

Song: "It's So Sweet To Trust In Jesus" sung by the group with Glenn Idehart as leader.

Following the program the group was invited to the basement of the church for refreshments which were served from a table covered with a yellow linen cloth and centered with a lovely arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums.

Presiding at the punch bowls at right end of the table were Mrs. Louella Forrest and Mrs. Anna Bickman.

Glenn Idehart, Jr. of the Louisville, Ky. High School was the guest speaker at the Sunday School Board of the church.

Each member answered the roll call with "the most unusual thing I ever saw a small child do." A very interesting report was given by Mrs. Baus Cochrum, citizenship leader, on "The United Nations."

Land scape and gardening notes were also given by Mrs. Cochrum. She gave interesting reports on the care, cultivation and planting of lawn grasses, bulbs and shrubs.

Some of the more popular names of vines, bulbs and evergreens were given. She also pointed out the proper spray materials to use for this season.

Mrs. Rachel Rowland gave some points of caution to prevent food poisoning. The club president, Mrs. James Harris, spoke about the 4-H Club Rally Day to be held May 23 and the 4-H Club Camp at Dawson Springs July 13-17. The fee for this is $8.50.

Each homemaker has set a goal of the following by attaining: Make one lampshade or more, the new furniture grouping, past helps to six non-members on home furnishings and an exhibit.

Mrs. Chester Myers reported she had met with an unorganized group with four persons present. The main lesson on "Accessories for the Home" was discussed by Mrs. Thomas Lee Armstrong. Many points were given on the selection, arrangements and proper accessories. Several groups were made to bring out points discussed.

Only Four Teachers In County Have Special Certificates
FRANKFORT, Ky. — A report on the school teacher shortage in Kentucky shows that four teachers in Calloway County have emergency teaching certificates.

The study, issued by the State Department of Education's Division of Teacher Education and Certification, shows that 2,988 public school teachers in Kentucky have less than standard certificates. The figure is an improvement over a year ago, when there were 4,971 emergency teachers.

There has been a steady decline in emergency certificates since the 1947-1948 school year, when there were 5,300 teachers employed on an emergency basis.

Of the emergency teachers in Calloway County this year, four are the county.

The study shows that of the state total of emergency certificates in use this year, 2,455 were issued to teachers in elementary schools and that 17.7 per cent of Kentucky's elementary teachers have less than the required scholastic standing as teachers. At the high school level there are 348 emergency teachers—5.6 per cent of the total. The combined percentage for all teachers in Kentucky is 14.05.

Only 25 per cent of the emergency teachers have not completed some college work, while 15 per cent have college degrees or above. About half have completed two years of college.

Truck Service Survey Started In Kentucky

FRANKFORT — A state-wide survey of the type service being rendered by the common carrier truck operators in Kentucky is being undertaken under auspices of the State Department of Motor Transportation. Commissioner of Motor Transportation John M. Kinnaird announced that Delmer Ison, director of the department's Division of Rates and Service will be in charge of collecting data for the survey which will be supplied both the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce and the State Agricultural and Industrial Development Board as aids to further industrialization. "Our State has suddenly entered an era of rapid industrial expansion and we are deeply interested in contributing to the program by helping to provide the communities and industrial areas the most convenient and adequate truck transportation possible," said Kinnaird. "Such a survey should also enable us to re-examine the industry with a view of improvement." A questionnaire is being provided business groups by which they are requested to furnish information on the quality of truck service being rendered the community.

CHERRY CORNER NEWS

The continuing rain is going to make crops and gardens late. The weeds and grass are doing fine and that makes good pastures for the live stock. I certainly hope we don't have a summer drought like we did last year.

A large number attended the Cherry Corner Baptist Church, May 10, to hear Rev. McCollough's last message to the church as the pastor. He used for his scripture the same as he did the previous Sunday, Philippians 1. As it was Mother's Day he asked all the mothers to stand so as to be recognized. The prayer he prayed will long be remembered by many. After Rev. McCollough's prayer, Hoyt Roberts, song leader of the church, led the song of "Faith of Our Mothers".

The visitors that attended Sunday morning and Sunday night were Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Outland and children of the Memorial Church, Mr. and Mrs. Linus Spiceland (Chatterbox), of New Concord, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Thornton of Murray Route 1, Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Parker of Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun and son of Detroit, Nelson Garrison, and many others whose names I didn't get.

There was also a good many at the reception for Rev. McCollough Saturday night. The visitors were Rev. Harold Lanier, Rev. and Mrs. Norman Cuipepper and children, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Shipley, Glenn Iglehart and Hal Shipley.

Several women, young people and children were at the church Tuesday for the Royal Service Program. We are always glad to have our young people in our groups and they are always ready to assist in any part that they see them to. They will be greater leaders for the tomorrow than we are today.

Sam McCutcheon and Beaton Fitts were in Nashville last week for a physical check-up and treatments. Sam will stay for several days for treatments.

Mrs. Nora Parker of Hazel, was the visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Ofus Outland and Dale Wednesday and Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Henry's visitors last Tuesday were Mrs. Sam McCutcheon and Judy, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Henry and children, Mr. and Mrs. Beaton Fitts and David.
